

Imagination is rehearsal for reality. Don't dismiss your dream. It may be tomorrow's blueprint.

Alignment matters more than hustle. When your inner world is crystalline, effort converts into flow. Misalignment turns even windfalls into burdens.

You don't have to know how. You only have to know what and who to trust. The 'how' unfolds in its own wondrously wild way.

Creation is communion. You're not transmitting thoughts into form all by your lonesome. The Mystery moves with you, through you, as you.